Truckers feel the pinch of diesel price hike, jack up freight rates

The operating cost for India's truckers has risen by nearly 40% over the last few months as the continuous increase in diesel prices has wreaked havoc. For some time, the truckers absorbed this cost pressure due to long-term contracts with customers, but now, they have begun raising freight rates.

COVID-19 pandemic opens up investment opportunities in logistics sector

Over the past few years, the Indian market has attracted capital for income-generating real assets such as office or industrial space or infrastructure assets. India's competitiveness and growth in infrastructure and increased government focus have created an ecosystem to build and grow businesses in India. This is also expected to drive the growth of the logistics sector in the country.
